PROFILE

As a Los Angeles native, I developed an interest in photography and motion picture at a young age. In 2008, I received the title senior colorist grading the CBS series Everybody Hates Chris. The following year Everybody Hates Chris, along with Weeds received an Emmy nomination for cinematography. Since then, I have color graded a variety of television series, for networks such as HBO, Showtime, Hulu, CBS, NBC, ABC, FOX, TNT, and TBS, as well as a wide range of feature films, commercials and music videos. I've also worked with companies like Apple, Adobe, Avid and Blackmagic Design to provide feedback on new software development. I am a member of the Colorist Society International.
